C. M. MCGLOTHLAM DIES AT WEST POINT

Prominent Citizen's Death Great Shock To Business Circles And Wide Acquaintance Of Friends--Funeral And Burial At Irvington Thursday.

NEARLY SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Irvington, August 13. (Special).—Again the funeral knell has sounded and another soldier from life's battle front has fallen; his sword rests within its scabbard no more to be unsheathed in the cause of right, justice and honor.

All that was mortal of the late Camillus McGlothlam, of West Point, Ky., on Tuesday evening, August the sixth at 11:10 o'clock was called from this earth to the great beyond.

Mr. McGlothlam was born of Kentucky parentage in Missouri October 2, 1840, being at the time of his death in his 64th year. He had a large circle of friends and acquaintances in Meade, Breckenridge and Hardin counties, and where known was honored and respected for his many sterling qualities. Until his failing health required his retirement from active business, he was prominently connected with the Louisville National Banking Co. and was also a director of the First State Bank of Irvington. During his life he held many positions of honor and trust.

His funeral services were conducted here Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock by the De Molay Commandery No. 12 Knight Templars, Col. Meffert officiating and Barker Lodge No. 129 of West Point with Mr. W. J. Piggott of Bewleyville Lodge No. 228 as Master of Ceremonies, with a large representation from Hardinsburg, Stephensport and Cloverport lodges. His body rests in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Irvington, Kentucky.

Fred Hardwick, past eminent commander of De Molay Commandery of Knight Templars, Sir Knights Prof. W. H. Bartholomew and Col. Meffert, one of the last remaining 16 Kentucky Colonels, came down from Louisville to assist at the services. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Piggott.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Matilda Brashear McGlothlam. Besides the widow at his home are: Miss Minnie Hoyle, Miss Sarah Haynes and Rebecca Brashear Younger to whom Mr. McGlothlam was as kind and loving as a father. The deceased leaves a will leaving his entire estate to his wife.

WEISENBERGER O. K.

All Eyes On Him At The Ball Game Thursday Afternoon. Hardinsburg Juniors Win Game From M. W. A's---Fair Crowd Attends.

Hardinsburg Juniors defeated Marion Weatherholt's Athletics by the score 5 to 3 in a quiet game at the West End Ball Park Thursday afternoon. A good crowd was out to see the contest as the M. W. A's are creating a good deal of interest in town.

Walter Weisenberger was watched enthusiastically from the grandstand when he played short stop between second and third bases. He is as quick as a flea and rarely ever missed catching a ball that came his way. In fact, he stopped score after score that would have been made by the Hardinsburg Juniors. Really, the winning team was too big and too old to play with the M. W. A's.

Miss Hallie Brown, Miss Isabelle Hendricks, Moorman Dittu, Claude Mercer, Franklin Kincheloe and Mr. Hendricks, of Hardinsburg, attended the game.

When Mr. Triplett came through the depot gate at St. Louis he gave the gateman two tickets for himself and wife and two for his six children. The gateman said, "I beg your pardon, sir, two tickets are not enough for six children." The father answered: "They are triplets, a ticket a set."

Miss Irene Jarboe served grape juice from a punch bowl filled with a large cake of ice on which were sprigs of mint.

The dining table was lovely, lighted with candles and the center piece was a beautiful bride's cake, pyramidal in shape, with a white satin tree for the top piece. The cutting of the cake was very exciting and the ring was never found. Miss Edith Plank cut the darling needle, Mrs. Chas. Moorman, Jr., the thimble, Miss Louise Babbage, the bachelor's button, and some one cut the dime without noticing and it was left on the plate. The articles were put in the icing, which was made in flowers. On the cake were the dates 1912 and 1877, and its beauty and mystery and deliciousness was quite entertaining.

RECRUITING OFFICE HERE FOR U. S.

Large American Flag Flying In Cloverport. Attractive To Young Men With Soldier Hearts. Sub-Station May Be Here For Several Weeks. Two Recruiting Officers Have Charge

ROBERT MATTINGLY OFFICER

"Men Wanted" in huge white letters on a dark blue flag, and a big American flag are waving from Dr. Simons' office where the United States army recruiting office has been stationed for an indefinite time. Robert Mattingly and J. Bishop are the officers and receive applicants for first enlistment. Capt. Nathan J. Shelton was here several days ago to make arrangements for the sub-station. He will return soon to see what success has been attained and to determine how long the station will be open.

This year is the beginning of the second enlistment of officer Bishop, who was in the office when the station was visited by the News representative.

"I wouldn't advise any man to go in the army unless I knew the life was all right for that man," he said Monday.

With all kinds of army posters, flags, government stationery, uniforms and caps stacked up around him, officer Bishop seems as happy as a kid at home just playing soldier boy. He is a Knoxville man.

Officer Mattingly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mattingly of this city. He has charge of most of the advertising for man-posting bills in post-offices and public places. He will drive over the county and also work Tobinsport. Mr. Mattingly appreciates a newspaper and says it helps him in his limited life. He is a young man who shows he is making good. His energy and temperate habits will, no doubt, secure him continued promotions with Uncle Sam.

Was Courteous.

Nick Longworth was saying the other day that the country is getting too much overrun with people who take themselves seriously. And speaking of folk who take themselves seriously, Nick related this one:

There was a well known character in Cincinnati named Dan Kelly, who worked as conductor on a street car. Among the people who rode on that line occasionally was a fashionable woman, the wife of a prominent citizen. She thought her name was one to conjure with, to say nothing of making men bow to at the very mention of it. One day this woman became greatly peeved because the car was not stopped at the side of the street where she desired to get off. She asked the conductor if he would not have the car backed up so that she would not need to walk across the street in the slush. He told her he'd like to oblige and all that, but it was against the rules.

"Why," exclaimed the woman in a this-should-settle-it tone, "I'm Mrs. So-and-So."

"My name's Dan Kelly," said the conductor, lifting his cap politely. "I'm glad to meet you."—New York Press.

Memory In Fishes.

A fish caught with bait, if put back into the water, seizes the bait again. But if a red disk is fastened above the bait the fish takes note of it and connects it with the sharp hook, so that after a few times he will not touch bait surrounded by a red disk. His memory is not clear enough or developed in so far that he dreads the bait, but he has the faculty of connecting the red disk with the sense of pain.—Harper's Week

Candidate Jim Tom Jones

Who keers for Taft or Wilson, and who keers for Teddy R.?

Who's cryin' over Bryan and the way he gives it jar

To old Champ Clark of Rowlin' Green? And who Jim Sherman be,
Or that there Marshall feller, hain't a-worin' of me.

I'm Jim Tom Jones of Caney Creek,
And hain't nobody's fool;

But I'm here to state I'm a candidate
For township constabule.

This tariff question cuts no ice at all in my campaign;

And these here trusts that Teddy busts jest simply gives me pain;

The sacred cause o' labor never keeps me up o' nights,

And I hain't botherin a bit about the people's rights.

I'm Jim Tom Jones of Caney Creek;
My platform's in hy bat,

And I'm a-runnin' and out a-gunnin'
For constabule—jest that.

I'll let these hafalutin sharps around the county sent

Do all the flabbergastin' 'bout the cost of things to eat.

They all can run for Congress and for Governor and sich

And tell us how we're trampled by the predatory rich.

I'm Jim Tom Jones of Caney Creek,
And I'm a-keeping cool,

With no opposition for the proposition
Of township constabule.

SUN BATHS CURE MANY ILLS

Form of Treatment Increasing
In Popularity--Sun Baths
Have Been Known For Cen-

Attention.

GERMANS THINK IT GREAT

With the return of the holiday season Germans, and especially Berliners, think a great deal of their health and how it is to be recuperated after the exertions of the last year. Perhaps more than the members of any other nation, they consider the hygienic side of their holiday, with the result that in every German summer resort of importance there are opportunities afforded for all sorts of experiments.

Among these is the Sonnenbad, the sun bath, which is apparently growing in popularity and seems to have an increasing body of medical opinion in its favor. All that is required is the sun, and the sun's rays hitherto have been free and untaxed. It is the simplest and perhaps the most harmless form of light therapeutics.

The bathers must be protected from the wind and in a position open to the south; they recline on rugs, dry sand or heather. The head must be protected against the sun's rays and the position of the body changed every ten minutes or so in order to avoid too strongly sunning any part of the body.

A bath ought not in any case to last longer than an hour. The results are profuse perspiration, redness of the skin, and in weak and sensitive persons dizziness, excitement and fainting.

Sun baths are especially resorted to in Germany in the cases of certain forms of skin diseases, corpulence and a number of kindred ailments. Indeed, writes a Berlin correspondent of the London Chronicle, the fanatics of the sun bath go so far as to declare that there is no disease which the sun, the all healer, will not cure, or at least favorably modify.

Sun bathing, of course, has been known for centuries. The Romans had their solariums in their villas, where the inhabitants used to sit in the strong rays of the sun and be cured of rheumatism and gout. But it was not until the Swiss Arnold Rikli took up the cause that the modern world really turned serious attention to it.

Rikli was a sun fanatic and there can be no doubt that he exaggerated the efficacy of helio-therapeutics. Besides, he connected it with a number of other doubtful practices, such as vegetarianism and barefoot walking on wet grass. It is probable that the famous Lahmann Institution near Dresden has struck the happy mean between the fanatics on the one side and the old conservative school on the other. In Lahmann's sanitarium the effects of sun and air are scientifically combined and moderate gymnastics take the place of the recumbent listlessness of the ordinary sun bath.

Berlin is probably the city where one can see the sun bath at its greatest popularity. Here there are associations for sun bathing. In the summer these people wander out to commons and heaths and other open places, put up a sort of shanty, and enclose a space on which the sun beats.

Here they will lie in groups reading or sleeping or brushing off the flies, and return toward evening professing perfect health. In the Grunewald, near Berlin, at a place called Elchkamp, there is an establishment of this sort on a large scale, and all along the banks of the Spree and Havel, where the sun is reflected from the water with greater intensity than elsewhere, one can notice little colonies of sun bathers enjoying themselves.

The newest houses in the west of the city are supplied not only with roof gardens, but also in a number of cases with solariums, and I understand that other cities are following the example of Berlin.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This In Cloverport.

Scores of Cloverport people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

L. V. Chapin, Cloverport, Ky., says: "I have used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a great deal of good. Last summer I was in bad shape with kidney trouble and seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended, I went to Fisher's Drug Store and got a box. In a short time I was cured and I have had no need of a kidney medicine since."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Chapin had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Save All Kinds Of Bottles.

One young lady of Cloverport has her pantry filled with the most attractive glasses of jelly. She saved every kind of a small bottle last year and put the jelly in it this season. The tiniest bottles are lovely for jelly as it is so often used in small portions. Of course, the bottles are thoroughly cleansed with labels taken off and cleaned tops used over a layer of clean paper.

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

Wouldn't Know He's A Preacher

Robert Hines, the colored pastor of the Methodist church here, is a laboring man in every sense of the word. He works with his hands as well as his mind and to see him any day except Sunday, one would not think him a preacher. He has built a new room to the parsonage this year, has two gardens and never spends an idle minute.

THE MESSAGES OF THE CANDIDATES.

Mr. Wilson, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, have each delivered a lengthy message in the last week and we wonder how many men have read all three? As a rule, a Taft man will read Taft's address and not Roosevelt's, and a Democrat will read just Mr. Wilson's, and the Roosevelt man will read only Teddy's. So the average man knows only one side of the question—and there are three sides in the Presidential campaign of 1912. These men have all given their views about international affairs of which we know little, they have discussed the tariff business that few men can explain or understand, they have told us about Alaska and the Philippines, and who ever thinks seriously of them? Teddy endorsed woman suffrage and so few are converted to that, and conservation they included and we are not overly concerned about that—in fact, few of us, especially the average young man, can express a studied opinion about the making and unmaking of our constitution and the national questions of to day.

One paragraph of the three speeches touched every man—it did not miss one who read it and that was "the high cost of living". Every man knows something about that and wants a remedy. Each platform promises substantial reduction, but after all, the real reduction lies with the individual. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt have all said enough in their first speeches already that if we would do, would make us prosperous. If each individual would not, as Mr. Roosevelt says "live in a fashion that his expenditure always exceeds his income", then our community would be prosperous. Mr. Taft says that progress comes from energy, courage, restraint of appetite and of passions.

o o o

Mr. Wilson does not blame the individual for the high cost of living—he does not say that the extravagance of the people has caused it, but he states that the trusts control the prices and that the prices climb faster than we can push our earnings up. He blames the "vast confederacies of corporations," as well as the trusts, and declares that laws must be devised which will reform them in many ways. Mr. Wilson says that the confederacies, at least, some are beginning to adjust their business to the new standard and are changing their attitude. They see that what is right can hurt no man, that their own honor, their own intelligence is involved.

We all know how to do to be prosperous—especially after these three speeches. What we need now is a bull mooser determination of our own to do what we know is best for ourselves and our country.

DOMESTIC DISHONESTY.

When we speak of dishonesty, we are apt to think first of stealing or trying to get money under false pretenses, or not telling the truth, but the more we see into the life of people, the more we are convinced that this is the least common and the less practiced kind of dishonesty. There is domestic dishonesty—not being true to the washer-woman. For instance, we will want her to do the family wash for twenty-five cents a week less than she is doing it. We will complain at her price and then go off to the city and pay a quarter or fifty cents for something that is not near so important as the laundry or that isn't worth half the price—and very often our money goes for absolute foolishness. Are we honest with the washer-woman when we are extravagant in other ways and complain at her work and charge? Are we honest when we try to make her and ourselves think that she is asking too much for her work? The only way a man or a woman can tell about the value of domestic labor is to get over the wash tub, stand at the ironing board, cook over a hot stove or run a sewing machine every day. Then that man or that woman who grumbles, who pays the price reluctantly for domestic labor, will change and understand that no washer-woman is rarely ever over paid. Let us be true to the washer woman, let us save her as much as we can, pay her with gratitude, with consideration as well as with dollars and cents.

OUR COUNTY FAIR.

The Breckenridge County Fair Association can hardly wait for next week as every plan has been perfected for the splendid program for the entire three days. Every family in the county will, no doubt, be represented, nearly every farm in the county will send some product, and the association is delighted with the prospects for success of this year's fair. The grounds were never prettier, there is no dust and the place looks like spring instead of the hot month of August. The grand-stand has been put in a comfortable condition and will be unusually pleasant for the spectators. Indeed, no one, who wants a real good time, one of wholesome enjoyment, besides one of educational features and of industrial inspiration, will allow next week to slip by without being there, dressed up and taking in the sights.

THE CRY FOR THE FRONT PAGE.

Scarcely a week passes unless a request comes in for an item to be put on the front page "sure". Every page of the Breckenridge News contains live news-matter, and each page is a number one page for all of our pages are made up the same days. It is a mistaken idea that people only read the first page. The truth is they read every page—possibly the front first, but what is remembered best is what is read last. In other words "the last shall be first", so do not be disappointed if your article does not appear in the first column. We often notice that some persons read locals first—and some never read any except the local column. Read the entire paper, the advertisements and the paragraphs, then you will get all of the pudding.

APPLE RAISING

Talk about apples in Idaho, Wyoming, Oregon and Washington, we raise right here in Breckenridge, in Cloverport, down in "Cow-beel", just as big and as beautiful apples as these states can boast of and produce. Why we do not raise the quantity is no fault of the land. The success of apple raising, experts have shown that it is in the planting, then the care and culture. If you have the courage to do that and then go down in the earth and dig, spray and prune, then your apple harvest will be just as good as in the far West. Lands that will bring forth this fruit can be bought for $5, $8, $10, $15, $20 and $25 per acre in Breckenridge county.

Woodrow Wilson's address was not a "political" letter, not filled with pet projects, not filled with what "I am going to do", but filled with the measures the people can bring about and directing to them ways and means. It is a relief to read such a judicial and incisive address to the people. Mr. Wilson has a "seeing eye"—an eye that can look through people, through corporations, through trusts and tell them, without destroying them, what will make them better for themselves and for the people.

There are many persons, not subscribers, who continually expect the same favors of the newspaper as the patrons of the paper get. Our patrons come first. While we have never made any particular difference in the matter of granting favors to subscribers and non-subscribers, we have come to the conclusion that our patrons should at least, be given first choice—and they shall have it whenever it is in our power and knowledge.

C. M. McGlothlin is dead. A good friend, a good citizen and a good man is gone. The last tribute of love and respect was paid to him when his burial took place at Irvington Thursday. The services were beautifully conducted by the fraternities in which he stood so high.

Breckenridge county people will be glad to learn that Charlie Miller is to hold his place as Deputy Warden at Eddyville. Charlie has been holding that position for several years and his re-appointment is a credit to his good work and attention to duty.

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, one of the delegates-at-large from Illinois to the National Progressive Convention, seconded the nomination of Col. Roosevelt. She is the first woman to speak as a delegate in seconding a presidential nomination.

Sydney Brooks writes that Mr. Wilson is even better than his writings. We must have a Democratic triumph in November, we must have the guiding hand of Mr. Wilson at the head of our nation.

The Republican National Convention cost $96,000. The Progressive Convention cost $17,000. Teddy is making a fair start already to reduce the high cost of living.

A pleasure assured the people at the Masons' barbecue here tomorrow is there will be no popularity contests that are becoming extremely unpopular with the people.

Renew your subscription without being reminded or asked—it saves the editor time and energy that should be spent in making every issue a perfect number.

Negro delegates to the Bull Moose Convention at Chicago say they run up against a Stone Crusher which ground them finer than Taft's Steam Roller.

Jesse Eskridge says the Progressive was the most representative convention he ever attended. Of course Jesse wasn't at Baltimore.

The Bull Moosers seemingly are the only live Republicans in Breckenridge.

St. Mary's Of The Woods.

The picnic, like everything undertaken by this enthusiastic, hard working band "In the Woods", was a great success.

Do you know what makes things go "In the Woods"? Why it is enthusiasm and hard work on the part of every one. Every man, woman and child works.

Strangers like to help those who help themselves.

There must have been a thousand apple pies on the grounds. Dave Moorman and John Babbage got all the pie they wanted for once.

It was a pleasure to see how beautifully the bunch of fellows from Hardinsburg gave up their money to the girls in the contests. How could one resist the efforts of the beautiful young girls in their pleadings for "please buy a ticket".

The concrete walk from the town to the grounds and church shows just what a united effort, headed by a good General, can do.

Father Knue says advertising in the county papers brought success.

The dinner was simply great. There was fried chicken, baked chicken, roast lamb, roast beef, cakes, and coffee, all contributed by the families.

Silas McGary, of McQuady, got the runabout; Charles Craycroft, of Big Spring, the sewing machine; Miss Nellie Sherron, of Tar Fork, rocking chair, Miss Vic Weise, of Mattingly, the doll baby.

Homer Ray, of Owensboro, won in the 50 yard boys foot race, prize pocket knife.

Miss Eveline Master, Glen Dean, captured the prize in the girls foot race, a beautiful hat.

Visitors present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Whitehouse, of West Point; Mrs. Tite Adkins, Irvington; Mrs. Rosa Whitehouse, Cloverport; Mrs. Jake Allen and daughter, Mattie, of Owensboro.

Father Knue reports over $600 clear of expenses.

A beautiful little shower came about 2 o'clock. It only lasted a few minutes, just enough to cool the atmosphere.

The following Cloverporters were here: H. L. Stader, Misses Maggie Ryan and Maude Beavin, Ben Mattingly, Simon Beavin, Jas. Beavin, Golden Weathering and wife.

Hardee Ball, Morris Beard, Vic Robertson, Sherman Ball and Roy Meador, of Hardinsburg, came in an auto.

CHAPTER XXXII.

The Empty Berth.

The one thing Mallory was beginning to learn about Marjorie was that she would never take the point or view he expected, and never proceed along the lines of his logic.

She had grown furious at him for what he could not help. She had told him that she would marry him out of spite. She had commanded him to pursue and apprehend the lying parson. He failed and returned crestfallen and wondering what new form her rage would take.

And, lo and behold, when she saw him so downcast and helpless, she rushed to him with caresses, cuddled his broad shoulders against her breast, and smothered him. It was the sincerity of his dejection and the complete helplessness he displayed that won her woman's heart.

Mallory gazed at her with almost more wonderment than delight. This was another flash of her character. Most courtships are conducted under a rose-light in which wooer and wooed wear their best clothes on their best behavior; or in a starlit, moonlit, or gaslit twilight where romance softens angles and wraps everything in velvet shadow. Then the two get married and begin to live together in the cold, gray daylight of realism, with undignified necessities and harrowing situations at every step, and disillusion begins its deadly work.

This young couple was undergoing all the inconveniences and temper-exposures of marriage without its blessed compensations. They promised to be well acquainted before they were wed. If they still wanted each other after this ordeal, they were pretty well assured that their marriage would not be a failure.

Mallory rejoiced to see that the hurricane of Marjorie's jealousy had only whipped up the surface of her soul. The great depths were still calm and unmoved, and her love for him was in and of the depths.

Soon after leaving Ogden, the train entered upon the great bridge across the Great Salt Lake. The other passengers were staring at the enormous engineering masterpiece and the conductor was pointing out that, in order to save forty miles and the crossing of two mountain chains, the railroad had devoted four years of labor and millions of dollars to stretching a thirty-mile bridge across this inland ocean.

But Marjorie and Mallory never noticed it. They were absorbed in exploring each other's souls, and they had safely bridged the Great Salt Lake which the first big bitter jealousy spreads across every matrimonial route.

They were undisturbed in their voyage, for all the other passengers had their noses flattened against the window panes of the other cars—all except one couple, gazing each at each through time-wrinkled eyelids touched with the magic of a tardy honeymoon.

For all that Anne and Ira knew, the Great Salt Lake was a moon-swept lagoon, and the arid mountains of Nevada which the train went scaling, were the very hillsides of Arcadia.

But the other passengers soon came trooping back into the observation room. Ira had told them nothing of Mallory's confession. In the first place, he was a man who had learned to keep a secret, and in the second place, he had forgotten that such persons as Mallory or his Marjorie existed. All the world was summed up in the fearfully happy little spinster who had moved up into his section—the section which had begun its career draped in satin ribbons unwittingly prophetic.

The communion of Mallory and Marjorie under the benison of reconciliation was invaded by the jokes of the other passengers, unconsciously ironic.

Dr. Temple chaffed them amiably: "You two will have to take a back seat now. We've got a new bridal couple to amuse us."

And Mrs. Temple welcomed them with: "You're only old married folks, like us."

The Mallorys were used to the misunderstanding. But the misplaced witticisms gave them reassurance that their secret was safe yet a little while. At their dinner-table, however, and in the long evening that followed they were haunted by the fact that this was their last night on the train, and no minister to be expected.

And now once more the Mallorys regained the star roles in the esteem of the audience, for once more they quarreled at good-night-kissing time. Once more they required two sections, while Anne Gattie's berth was not even made up. It remained empty, like a deserted nest, for its occupant had flown south.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble.

When writing, mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Learning To Grow Alfalfa.

When President Roosevelt appointed his Commission on Country life, he and others little dreamed that the printed report of the Commission would become a sort of classic for the church. About the time the Commission was making its investigations Dr. Westerner H. Wilson was appointed to a position in the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and since that time he has become known as "a Country Church and Rural Religious Expert." He has, after mature study, arrived at the conclusion that the country parsons and the country church need to be put on the job. As a result of Dr. Wilson's efforts, Summer Schools of Religion are being conducted in various parts of the country at which trained University experts teach the village sky pilots of the new order how to grow alfalfa: how to inoculate and conserve the soil. The parson is taught many things about the value and "grades" and "thoroughbreds" in stock-raising and is informed on the proper housing of everything from chickens to children.

The country church is to be awakened and made to sit up and take notice by a preacher who is made to understand that a great economic and moral crisis is imminent because the land is being sinned against. Land in the new order of things, is to be reckoned holy as well as man and it is to be brought home to the "dominion" that there is an intimate relation between soil culture and soul culture.

The country church when awakened along this pathway it is believed will take its place beside the school as a social center in the community, sharing with the community its recreational, educational, social, economic and civil life.

The Work Of The Heart.

Of all the structural wonders revealed by physiology none is more striking than that of the heart. With each stroke it projects about six ounces of blood into the conduits of the system, and as it does so some 70 times every minute and 1,200 times during an hour this implies that it does the same thing 100,800 times in twenty-four hours, 30,000,000 times in a year and more than 2,500,000,000 times in a life of seventy years.

The force exerted by the heart's sufficient to lift one hundred and twenty tons one foot high every twenty-four hours. Yet the piece of living mechanism that is called upon to accomplish this feat without pause for threescore years and ten, without itself being worn out by the effort, is a small bundle of muscles that rarely weighs more than eleven ounces.—Harper's Weekly.

Notice To Correspondents.

Correspondents are asked not to insert ads or notices of any kind about entertainments given to make money unless a check or post-office order is enclosed for the Ad. Notice of church suppers, anything for sale, or business announcements are published at the regular rates. Advertising space in The Breckenridge News is for sale like clothing in a dry goods store and it takes money to run the paper, just like it takes money to keep any other business going.

BRECKENRIDGE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Meets With Walnut Grove Church Wednesday, August 28, Near Lodiburg--Big Preparations For The Meeting--Hospitality Open To All.

FIFTEEN CHURCHES LISTED.

The tenth annual meeting of the Breckenridge Baptist Association will be held with the Walnut Grove church, near Lodiburg, August 28-30. The fifteen churches that affiliate with this body will select their messengers and prepare their statistical letters to the Association during the month. One of the best meetings in the history of the Association is contemplated.

Walnut Grove is noted for their open hospitality and will make a bountiful provision for the entertainment of the Association.

The officers of the Association are: Rev. J. J. Willett, Hardinsburg, Moderator; Mr. W. C. Moorman, Glen Dean, Clerk; Rev. J. F. Winchell will preach the introductory sermon. The standing committee to report are as follows: Foreign Missions—J. J. Willett, Chairman; Home Missions—J. F. Winchell, Chairman; State Missions—C. R. Shepherd, Chairman; District Missions, J. Duggins, Chairman; Ministers Aid—M. P. Compton, Chairman; Temperance—J. T. Lewis, Chairman; Schools and Colleges—T. H. Moorman, Chairman; Orphans Home—F. H. McGhee, Chairman; Sunday Schools—J. B. Herndon, Chairman; Obituaries—Andrew Crawford, Chairman; Digest of Church Letters—H. B. Head, Chairman; Order of Business—W. C. Moorman, Chairman; Religious Literature—E. B. Gatlin.

The Walnut Grove church was constituted in 1818. It is not known who its early pastors were. William Head served as pastor about twenty-five years and was followed by Elder D. Dowden, who was pastor for a number of years. Rev. E. B. Gatlin, who graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary last May, is the present pastor.

The Goshen Association, from which the churches in Breckenridge county were dismissed to form the Breckenridge Association, is one of the old associations of the State, having been organized in 1817, perhaps at the Goshen church at Glen Dean, from which church the association took its name. The Goshen Association has been generally prosperous. In 1840 it numbered 35 churches, aggregating 2,369 members, 681 of whom had been baptised during the year. In 1844 it dismissed 9 churches to go into the constitution of the Daviess County Association. In 1871 it had grown until it numbered 36 churches with 3,058 members. But this year it dismissed 14 churches to go into the organization of the Blackford Association. During the first 56 years of its history there were baptised into the fellowship of its churches 5,286 converts.

The oldest churches of the Goshen Association now in the Breckenridge Association, are: Goshen, constituted in 1808 with J. H. L. Moorman as its first pastor. New Hope and Pisgah churches, constituted in 1813, and Walnut Grove, constituted in 1818. The Cloverport church was constituted of eight members, by James H. L. Moorman, William Moorman and Charles Polk, in 1829. Among its early pastors were: J. H. L. Moorman, J. H. Brown, William Head, A. J. Dye, J. H. Spencer, D. Dowden, William M. Burn, A. J. Miller and H. T. Lampton.

The membership of the churches composing the Breckenridge Association, according to the last annual report, was 1,954. One of the weaknesses of the Association at present, is in its lack of resident pastors. It is the hope of the writer that a new day is dawning for this Association and it is his earnest desire that the churches, either individually or in co-operation, will call and make provisions for the pastors to live on the field of their work. So far as the writer knows Cloverport is the only church that has a parsonage and Cloverport is indebted to her noble band of women for its parsonage. The writer wants to join hands with the Baptists of the county and in a united effort to help usher in a new day in our work. With a progressive spirit and a holy zeal it can be done.

The Little Girl And Her Older Sister At Home.

"It must be lovely to have an older sister, I wish I had one", said a little girl to her play-mate recently. "You needn't to" answered the latter quickly, "for all the good my older sister does me, I could do without her. She never talks to me. We wash dishes together every day and never a word does she say, but just as soon as one of her girl friends or a boy comes in she can't tell them enough. She talks to them incessantly. My older sister makes all my clothes and is as good to me as she can be in that way, but I would lots rather she would talk to me and tell me what she thinks."

Loves Flowers.

Joe Allen, Jr., the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen, who live on the hill, is a great lover of flowers and never fails to notice one. If Joe cultivates his taste, he might grow up to be a man of great value and a great florist. Perhaps he might study for a landscape gardener, which is a profession now followed by men of education, who are making the cities and homes of the world beautiful.

The True Vacation.

We see in this world chiefly what we look for. A farmer going along examines the farms, an architect the buildings, a merchant the condition of the markets, a minister the churches. He who is constantly looking for troubles will find them stretching off into gloomy wilderness. He who is watching for blessings will see them hither and thither extending in harvests of luxuriance.

In this vacation season be sure that you take a vacation from your troubles and worries. Leave them behind as the most useless of all your baggage. Away—away with all forebodings!

Light laden, go forth among nature. Look up towards the sky so brilliantly bright by day, or at night merry with ten thousand stars joining hands of light, with the earth in the ring, going round and round with gleam and song, making old Time itself feel young again.

Go to the woods where the cooled and sifted breeze is scented with nature's fragrance and sweet with nature's songs.

Go to where the streams leap down off the rocks and their crystal heels clatter and glisten over the pure white pebbles.

Hark to the fluting of the winds and the long-meter psalm of the thunder.

Hear the fitful patter of the fairy-footed rain dancing on the awaying leaves. Look at the morning striding down the hills, routing the skulking shadows. See evening drawing aside the curtain from heaven's wall of jasper, sardonyx and amethyst.

Look on all this, and feel that God's in His Heaven and that there's room in your soul for peace.
